

Common Public Access Complaints

July 30, 2013

Length of Record

- Callers complain that their traffic (or parking) ticket has been resolved for many years and still appears on the website.
 - Implications for jobs
 - Appears longer than paper record

Expungement

- Litigants whose conviction has been set aside.
- Set aside restores civil rights (gun ownership, voting)
- Arizona does not have laws in place for expunging records.
- The record that a conviction happened and was then set aside is considered public.

Local Charges

- Currently the public access website shows “Local Charge” as opposed to the specific description of the charge whenever a local charge is on a case.
- Confusion over charges
